

Library Community Room (Ideas)

1/Single Dads Group

There is so little support and help of any kind for single dads.

Also it is really hard for these single dads to make friends as mothers tend to be the carers for young children, and their partners don't like if they make friends with another man.

Hence child suffers too.

Could be a nice place to come and chat.

Find out what is out there for single dads.

Even arrange group trips for single dads and their children to all get together.

2/Crafter-noons

Informal fun group where people share their talents for making things

3/Knit 'n' Natter

Already running

4/Amateur Photography Club

Run by enthusiasts for enthusiasts, a supporting and information type of group. Possibly go out around Millpool and woods etc.

5/New Mums and Dads group

When a new baby comes in to the family it is wonderful but scary and overpowering at times

A friendly group for new parents to talk with other new parents and find out they are not alone and that their problems are the same as others.

6/Autism support and information group

For those on the spectrum and their family friends and carers.

There is so little help and support out there so hopefully this group will help those struggling with all aspects and those who have found help can guide others.

7/ Lego Club

Perhaps split into older and younger group a great way to get creative and make new friends.

8/ Children/Young Adults Gaming club (possibly even an adult one)
